

At each receding-horizon step, RAWA-RHP scores feasible candidates under wind, reserve, and clearance constraints, then packs additional targets only when the remaining energy and safety margins allow it.